

National Volunteer Week Celebrations

This has been quite a year! Volunteering did not stop just because events, both large and small, were cancelled. People found new ways to help their fellow community members and volunteer organizations. Attending volunteer board meetings took place virtually (and maybe in our pajamas), but we still did it! The number of volunteers allowed in one place at one time was limited, but we wore masks and continued to do the tasks at hand.

There are so many volunteer stories from this past year to tell!

- Tell us about someone you know who deserves recognition.
- Tell us what you did on a volunteer basis to help out a neighbor or organization.

Follow this link <https://stettlerconnects.com/volunteer/volunteer-recognition> and fill out the Volunteer Recognition form on our Stettler Connects website to be registered for our National Volunteer Week celebration on Friday, April 23.

If you are an organization with a number of volunteers, you may send us an email with the names of those who will be taking part in our celebration event. Here is the email address: stettlerconnects2021@gmail.com

Volunteers who have registered or have been nominated using the Stettler Connects Volunteer Recognition form (or by their volunteer organization) will be invited to a 'drive-thru' event on Friday, April 23 from 1-3 pm, where they will receive a small token of appreciation. Address to 'drive-thru' is 5005-47 Street, Stettler Information and Referral Centre and Stettler Volunteer Centre office location.

Registration deadline is April 15, 2021. Registration is necessary for planning purposes.

Personal information collected will only be used for the purpose of 2021 National Volunteer Week celebrations.

Funding for National Volunteer Week is provided by the Government of Alberta and distributed by Volunteer Alberta.
